SDK Terms of Use

These SDK Terms of Use ("SDK Terms") apply to Customer's use of Airia's SDK and is in addition to and incorporated into the Agreement by reference. All capitalized words used but not defined have the meaning given to them in the Airia Service Terms at https://trust.airia.com/resources.

1. Eligibility. Customer has no right to use or access the SDK unless it obtained the SDK directly from an Airia.
2. License Grant. Subject to Customer's compliance with the Agreement, Airia grants to Customer a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable, and royalty-free license to: (a) use the SDK solely for creating software that interacts with Airia Services ("Developer Software"); and (b) execute the commands and utility applications included in the SDK. Developer Software may constitute a Customer Application. Customer may download and make a reasonable number of copies of the SDK for the uses expressly permitted herein. Any open-source or third-party commercial software included in the SDK is licensed to Customer under the terms of the applicable governing agreements. Customer agrees to comply with all such agreements.
3. Airia SDK. The SDK may include: (a) machine-readable instructions and data; (b) components, test cases, test scripts, files, and modules; (c) interface definitions, Documentation, sample utility applications and sample code regarding programming interfaces to the Airia Services; (d) third-party commercial software; and (e) open-source software.
4. Restrictions. Customer agrees that it will not: (a) use or allow use of the SDK for: (a) creating, designing, or developing derivative works, including derivative works of the Airia Services (Customer using the SDK to create derivative works of the Developer Software is allowed, however); (b) modifying, translating, or localizing the SDK, any header files, or class libraries; (c) reverse engineering, decompiling, disassembling or attempting to discover the source code of the SDK; (d) any purpose not expressly permitted in Agreement; (e) circumventing any technical restrictions or licensing terms of the SDK or Airia Services; or (f) violating any applicable law or regulation, or supporting or facilitating any illegal activity; (ii) distribute, sell, re-sell, lease, rent, lend, or sublicense any part of the Airia SDK to any third-party except as expressly permitted in the Agreement; (iii) remove or alter any trademark, logo, copyright or other proprietary notices, legends, symbols or labels in or on the SDK; or (iv) upload or otherwise transmit any material containing software viruses or other computer code, files or programs designed to interrupt, destroy, or limit the functionality of any Airia Services, software, or hardware.
5. Trademarks. Customer may not use Airia's or Airia Services' names, trademarks or service marks in connection with Developer Software without express written permission from Airia.
6. Support & Professional Services. Unless stated otherwise on an Order Form or SOW, any Support Services or Professional Services purchased by Customer or agreed upon by Airia do not extend to the SDK.
7. Trade Compliance. Customer acknowledges that the SDK is not intended for use by a government end-user, as defined in part 772 of the EAR (Export Administration Regulations) of the U.S. Commerce Department. Customer understands that, if indicated on the SDK download page, the SDK may contain cryptographic "software" subject to export controls under the U.S. Export Administration Regulations and the EU Dual-Use Regulations (Recast) (EU Reg. 2021/821), and that Customer shall not export or re-export the SDK without an export license or other government authorization. Without limiting the foregoing, the SDK may not be shipped, downloaded or otherwise exported or re-exported (a) into, or to a national or resident of, Cuba, Iran, North Korea, Syria, Russia or Region of Crimea, or any country to which the U.S. has embargoed goods; or (b) to anyone on the U.S. Treasury Department's list of Specially Designated Nationals, Specially Designated Terrorists, or Specially Designated Narcotic Traffickers, or otherwise on the U.S. Commerce Department's Table of Denial Orders.
8. Audit. Upon Airia's written request, which shall be no more than once annually (unless Customer materially breaches the Agreement), Customer agrees that Airia may require Customer to: (a) provide Airia with a signed statement verifying its compliance with these SDK Terms; or (b) provide Airia with reasonable access (either physical or virtual) to enable Airia to verify Customer's compliance with these SDK Terms. Airia may only conduct the audit during Customer's normal business hours operations.
